

FAQ: Uploading 360 video to Facebook or Youtube

To upload your Cyclops Gear 360 Video to Facebook or Youtube, you must download the video to your device from within the App in VR mode.

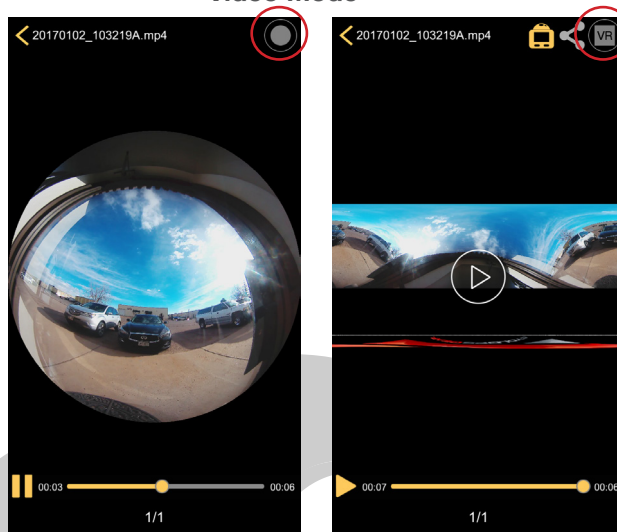

Make sure your connected to the 360 Camera. Once you've connected to the camera, open the CG360 App and go into the Media Galley. Select the CG360 tab at the top.

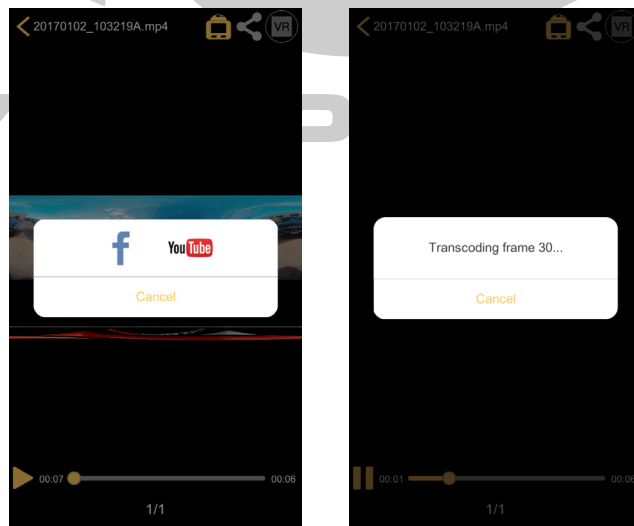

From here you may download the desired video to offline storage.

Video Mode

Open the video, and change the video mode to VR. Once the video is in VR mode, you should see the Share icon next to the Video Mode icon. *Note - The share icon will be displayed as a disk icon on the PC App.

Select the share button to download the video. A window should open displaying the option to share to either Facebook or Youtube.

Selecting either option will download the video to your devices photo album. Once the video has been transcoded and downloaded, the App may close and open the Facebook and Youtube Apps automatically.

*Note - The Facebook and Youtube App will only automatically open if you have the Apps downloaded to your device.

Once the video has been transcoded and downloaded you can share your video to Facebook or Youtube from your photo album like normal.

The black bar at the bottom of the video will dissappear automatically once the video has been uploaded and processed on Facebook or Youtube.

The video has been saved to my photo album

